For ease of reference, the term “WUBS” is used in these Terms and Conditions to refer to WUBS Singapore, WUBS FS Singapore and/or WUBS International, as the case may be, depending on the relevant Service being provided.

(b) WUBS FS Singapore: Where any of the Services involve the provision of Forward Contracts, WUBS FS will provide such part of the Services as involves currency conversion and remittance as principal.

All other parts of the Services and all other Services will be provided by WUBS International either directly or via WUBS Singapore as its agent.

2.2 Reliance on Instruction. The Client hereby authorises WUBS to accept, act and rely upon any Instruction that WUBS reasonably believes to have been made by the Client or any Authorised Person to provide the Services set forth in the Instruction from the Client.

2.3 Delivery of Instructions. The Client may give Instructions relating to the Services being provided to the Client by WUBS FS Singapore from time to time to personnel of WUBS Singapore, provided that they are also distinctly employed by WUBS FS Singapore and are registered as representatives of WUBS FS Singapore pursuant to the Securities and Futures Act, Cap 289.

2.4 Accuracy of Instruction. Before transmitting an Instruction, the Client is responsible for ensuring all information contained in the Instruction is complete, accurate, and if in writing, legible. If the Client subsequently learns of any error in an Instruction, the Client must immediately notify WUBS in writing.

2.5 Inaccuracy of Instruction. If the Client fails to provide a timely, complete, accurate and legible Instruction, WUBS will place the Contract Funds provided by or received for the benefit of the Client in accordance with its obligations under regulations applicable to it and otherwise under general law as custodian pending receipt from the Client of the information necessary to complete the transaction, provided that the Client is not otherwise in default under this Agreement. WUBS will not be liable for any loss or damage suffered by the Client as a result of any such delay.

2.6 Transaction Processing.

(a) WUBS agrees to process transactions for the Client as soon as commercially practicable (during business hours) after receiving an Instruction.

(b) The Parties agree that a transaction will be deemed to be binding and final once a Transaction Confirmation number has been generated by WUBS (or one of its WU Group Companies assisting with the generation of such confirmation).

(c) Once the Instruction has been processed and the Transaction Confirmation has been generated, WUBS will provide the Transaction Confirmation to the Client. WUBS will send drafts to the Client (or Payee) once the Instruction is processed or will initiate the electronic funds transfer(s) upon receipt of Settlement from the Client, unless otherwise agreed in writing between the Client and WUBS.

(d) The Client acknowledges that a WU Group Company will acquire (or make available) foreign currency in relation to each Instruction (including any Foreign Exchange Contract) involving a foreign currency payment so that WUBS will be able to fulfill its obligations to deliver the Contract Funds in accordance with a relevant Instruction.

2.7 Fees. The Client understands that WUBS will charge certain fees for the Services, which fees will be set forth in a fee schedule that will be provided to the Client upon request. 2.9 Assignment of Interest. The Client understands and agrees that no interest will be paid to the Client by WUBS or WUBS International with respect to any funds held on behalf of the Client (i.e. funds awaiting Instruction, funds maintained in the Holding Balance or Prepayment). For avoidance of doubt, such assignment extends only to any interest earned on any such funds.

3 FORWARD CONTRACT

3.1 Forward Contract. The Client may authorise WUBS to enter into a Forward Contract only by delivering an Instruction. Each Forward Contract will be governed by the provisions of this clause 3. 3.2 Forward Contract Partial Prepayments.

(a) Within two (2) business days of Client's Instruction to enter into a Forward Contract, unless otherwise agreed (or as contemplated by the Facility), WUBS must receive from the Client a Partial Prepayment in the minimum amount of five percent (5%) of the value of the Forward Contract.

(b) During the term of the Forward Contract, (e.g. at any time until the Maturity Date (Delivery Date/Value Date)) WUBS may request, on more than one occasion, and the Client agrees to provide to WUBS within two (2) business days of each such request, a Partial Prepayment (if not already provided) and/or Additional Partial Prepayment (Margin Call/Risk Exposure Top-Up Payment). (c) Any Prepayment delivered by the Client and received by WUBS is non-refundable and will be applied to satisfy the Client's total payment obligation owed to WUBS with respect to the relevant Forward Contract on the Maturity Date (Delivery Date/Value Date) or on the date of any final Draw Down.

3.3 Delivery of funds. Once Settlement has been received by WUBS, WUBS will deliver the funds in accordance with the Instruction or, if no such Instruction is provided, into the Holding Balance. The Client must initiate such payments from the Holding Balance by providing an Instruction. If the Client does not have access to the Holding Balance, the Client must provide to WUBS, at least two (2) business days before the Maturity Date (Delivery Date/Value Date), or Draw Down date, the necessary remittance details and Instructions to initiate the payment to the Payee.

3.4 Draw Down. The Client may Draw Down against a Forward Contract during the Delivery Window; provided, however, WUBS has received Settlement in immediately available funds corresponding to the amount of the Draw Down. Notwithstanding any Draw Down, the Client is required to provide full Settlement (or any remaining balance) to WUBS in immediately available funds in connection with a Forward Contract on or before the end of the Maturity Date. WUBS may at its discretion apply to any Draw Down any rate of exchange that it deems reasonably appropriate.

3.5 Rollover. In the event that the Client desires to rollover a Forward Contract, or any portion thereof, before the Maturity Date (Delivery Date/Value Date), the Client may do so; provided, however, certain terms, conditions and costs (if any) are agreed in advance by the Client and WUBS.

(a) If the Client:

(i) fails to deliver to WUBS any Prepayment or, communicates to WUBS an intent not to provide to WUBS any Prepayment required in relation to a Forward Contract;

(iii) is insolvent or a receiver or administrator is appointed with respect to some or all of its assets or it enters into liquidation; or

(iv) ceases or threatens to cease to carry on business or sells all, or substantially all of the assets of the business,

WUBS may, without notice, immediately terminate the relevant Forward Contract and/or any other outstanding Forward Contract agreed to between the Parties without any liability to WUBS and/or take any other steps WUBS deems appropriate (including any actions contemplated under clause 3.2) to mitigate the potential loss(es) caused by the Client's failure to honour its contractual obligations under the Forward Contract.

(b) In the event of such termination, the Client agrees to pay to WUBS on demand within five (5) business days the amount of any and all losses and expenses incurred by WUBS in connection with the termination and unwinding of the Forward Contract.

(c) Where a Forward Contract has been terminated, the Client agrees that WUBS' sole liability to the Client will be to return any amounts the Client actually paid to and received by WUBS that remain after deducting all amounts owed to the WUBS. Except as contemplated in this clause 3.6, the Client understands that a Forward Contract, once agreed and entered into, cannot be terminated.

If the Client does not deliver Settlement within five (5) business days following such Notification, WUBS will have the right to suspend and/or ultimately terminate the Services and/or initiate any proceedings necessary to recover any balance due. Such steps will be at the sole discretion of WUBS, and the Client agrees:

- (a) that WUBS will have no liability to the Client;
- (b) the Client waives any claim or action against WUBS; and
- (c) to indemnify and hold WUBS harmless from any and all liability, claims, damages and costs including all reasonable fees incurred by WUBS resulting from the Client's failure to pay and WUBS' effort to collect any balance due.

The Client agrees that WUBS may recover interest calculated at the Prime Rate of WUBS' major banker(s) plus 2% upon any unpaid amounts plus a late fee.

8.2 Settlement using collateral. In the event of default in payment by the Client, WUBS may satisfy any liability arising under this Agreement to WUBS and/or any other WU Group Company, out of any collateral (Prepayment) which WUBS holds for the Client, or other obligations WUBS has to the Client (e.g. distribution of Contract Funds), without prior notification to the Client. In the event such collateral or other obligation is insufficient, the Client will remain liable to WUBS for full Settlement and must promptly pay on demand the amount of any loss or expense sustained by WUBS.

8.3 Electronic Debits. If the Client has authorised WUBS to initiate debit entries to the Client's bank account by direct debits, the Client agrees that in the case of debit instructions transmitted through the Online Payment System, the usage of the Client Access Methods is a security procedure which constitutes a commercially reasonable method of protecting against unauthorised debits. The Client agrees to be bound by any debit instructions, whether authorised or not, issued in its name and acted upon by WUBS, and the Client agrees to indemnify WUBS and hold it harmless from and against any and all liability and expense incurred by WUBS in connection with its execution of debit instructions believed by WUBS to have been issued by an Authorised User. In the event the Client elects not to use or adhere to the security procedures described above, the Client will remain liable as set forth hereinabove for any debit instructions issued in its name, whether authorised or not, and acted upon by WUBS. The Client agrees that WUBS and the Client's bank are authorised to credit the Client's account from time to time in the event that credit adjustments become necessary. The Client authorises WUBS to contact the Client's bank as necessary to effectuate the Services.

8.4 Changes in the Client's Bank / Financial Institution. The Client must provide written notice to WUBS if the Client changes the account(s) at its bank / financial institution from which WUBS has been granted the authority to initiate electronic debits. Such notice will take effect thirty (30) days after WUBS' receipt thereof.

8.5 Modification of Debit Instructions. The security procedure set forth in this Agreement also applies to any amendments to and cancellations of debit instructions. The Client agrees that any addition/removal of an Authorised User will be promptly updated in the Online Payment System by the Site Administrator or will be promptly communicated to WUBS in a writing signed by a duly authorised officer of the Client. WUBS will not be bound by any such notice until WUBS has had a reasonable opportunity to act upon it.

8.6 E-Debit Execution. If as a result of an error or omission caused by WUBS, WUBS incorrectly debits the Client's bank account in an amount that exceeds the value of Settlement actually due, WUBS will return to the Client the over-debit amount (i.e. the difference between the amount debited and the amount of Settlement actually due). Said return of funds will be made within five (5) business days of WUBS receiving written notice of the over-debit. Return of the over-debit amount will be the Client's sole and exclusive remedy for any such error or omission. If as a result of an error or omission caused by WUBS, WUBS incorrectly debits the Client's bank account in an amount that is less than the value of Settlement actually due, WUBS is authorised to initiate an additional debit(s) from the Client's bank account for the additional funds owed by the Client to WUBS.

8.7 Dishonoured Settlement. In the event any cheque delivered or telegraphic transfer authorised by the Client is dishonoured by the Client's bank / financial institution, WUBS will charge and the Client agrees to pay all processing costs associated with each returned cheque or rejected electronic debit.

8.8 Waiver for Minor Overpayments. If there is a Minor Overpayment, the Client irrevocably waives any right that the Client may claim to have with respect to any such Minor Overpayment. The Client expressly acknowledges that this waiver is made in favour of WUBS in light of the administrative costs associated with returning a Minor Overpayment. Notwithstanding the foregoing, WUBS may in its absolute discretion, agree to apply the Minor Overpayment to Settlement that is due and owing pursuant to subsequent Services in the event that the Client makes a specific request in this regard.

9 HOLDING BALANCE

RISK DISCLOSURE STATEMENT REQUIRED TO BE FURNISHED UNDER REGULATION 47E(1) AND TO BE KEPT UNDER REGULATION 39(2)(c) BY THE HOLDER OF A CAPITAL MARKETS SERVICES LICENCE TO TRADE IN FUTURES CONTRACTS OR LEVERAGED FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTRACTS

1. This statement is provided to you in accordance with regulation 47E(1) of the Securities and Futures (Licensing and Conduct of Business) Regulations (Rg10).

2. This statement does not disclose all the risks and other significant aspects of trading in futures, options and leveraged foreign exchange. In light of the risks, you should undertake such transactions only if you understand the nature of the contracts and contractual relationships into which you are entering and the extent of your exposure to the risks. Trading in futures, options and leveraged foreign exchange may not be suitable for many members of the public. You should carefully consider whether such trading is appropriate for you in the light of your experience, objectives, financial resources and other relevant circumstances. In considering whether to trade, you should be aware of the following:

(a) Futures and Leveraged Foreign Exchange Trading

(i) Effect of Leverage or Gearing

Transactions in futures and leveraged foreign exchange carry a high degree of risk. The amount of initial margin is small relative to the value of the futures contract or leveraged foreign exchange transaction so that the transaction is highly leveraged or geared. A relatively small market movement will have a proportionately larger impact on the funds you have deposited or will have to deposit; this may work against you as well as for you. You may sustain a total loss of the initial margin funds and any additional funds deposited with the firm to maintain your position. If the market moves against your position or margin levels are increased, you may be called upon to pay substantial additional funds on short notice in order to maintain your position. If you fail to comply with a request for additional funds within the specified time, your position may be liquidated at a loss and you will be liable for any resulting deficit in your account.

(ii) Risk-Reducing Orders or Strategies

The placing of certain orders (e.g. stop-loss orders, where permitted under local law, or stop-limit orders) which are intended to limit losses to certain amounts may not be effective because market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders. At times, it is also difficult or impossible to liquidate a position without incurring substantial losses. Strategies using combinations of positions, such as spread and straddle positions may be as risky as taking simple long or short positions.

(b) Options

(i) Variable Degree of Risk

Transactions in options carry a high degree of risk. Purchasers and sellers of options should familiarise themselves with the type of options (i.e. put or call) which they contemplate trading and the associated risks. You should calculate the extent to which the value of the options would have to increase for your position to become profitable, taking into account the premium paid and all transaction costs.

The purchaser of options may offset its position by trading in the market or exercise the options or allow the options to expire. The exercise of an option results either in a cash settlement or in the purchaser acquiring or delivering the underlying interest. If the option is on a futures contract or leveraged foreign exchange transaction, the purchaser will have to acquire a futures or leveraged foreign exchange position, as the case may be, with associated liabilities for margin (see the section on Futures and Leveraged Foreign Exchange Trading above). If the purchased options expire worthless, you will suffer a total loss of your investment which will consist of the option premium paid plus transaction costs. If you are contemplating purchasing deep-out-of-the-money options, you should be aware that, ordinarily, the chance of such options becoming profitable is remote.

Selling (writing or granting) an option generally entails considerably greater risk than purchasing options. Although the premium received by the seller is fixed, the seller may sustain a loss well in excess of the amount of premium received. The seller will be liable to deposit additional margin to maintain the position if the market moves unfavourably. The seller will also be exposed to the risk of the purchaser exercising the option and the seller will be obligated to either settle the option in cash or to acquire or deliver the underlying interest. If the option is on a futures contract or a leveraged foreign exchange transaction, the seller will acquire a futures or leveraged foreign exchange position, as the case may be, with associated liabilities for margin (see the section on Futures and Leveraged Foreign Exchange Trading above). If the option is covered by the seller holding a corresponding position in the underlying futures contract, leveraged foreign exchange transaction or another option, the risk may be reduced. If the option is not covered, the risk of loss can be unlimited.

Certain exchanges in some jurisdictions permit deferred payment of the option premium, limiting the liability of the purchaser to margin payments not exceeding the amount of the premium. The purchaser is still subject to the risk of losing the premium and transaction costs. When the option is exercised or expires, the purchaser is responsible for any unpaid premium outstanding at that time.

(c) Additional Risks Common to Futures, Options and Leveraged Foreign Exchange Trading

(i) Terms and Conditions of Contracts

You should ask the corporation with which you conduct your transactions for the terms and conditions of the specific futures contract, option or leveraged foreign exchange transaction which you are trading and the associated obligations (e.g. the circumstances under which you may become obligated to make or take delivery of the underlying interest of a futures contract or a leveraged foreign exchange transaction and, in respect of options, expiration dates and restrictions on the time for exercise). Under certain circumstances, the specifications of outstanding contracts (including the exercise price of an option) may be modified by the exchange or clearing house to reflect changes in the underlying interest.

(ii) Suspension or Restriction of Trading and Pricing Relationships

Market conditions (e.g. illiquidity) or the operation of the rules of certain markets (e.g. the suspension of trading in any contract or contract month because of price limits or circuit breakers) may increase the risk of loss by making it difficult or impossible to effect transactions or liquidate/offset positions. If you have sold options, this may increase the risk of loss.

Further, normal pricing relationships between the underlying interest and the futures contract, and the underlying interest and the option may not exist. This can occur when, e.g., the futures contract underlying the option is subject to price limits while the option is not. The absence of an underlying reference price may make it difficult to judge fair value.

(iii) Deposited Cash and Property

You should familiarise yourself with the protection accorded to any money or other property which you deposit for domestic and foreign transactions, particularly in a firm's insolvency or bankruptcy. The extent to which you may recover your money or property may be governed by specific legislation or local rules. In some jurisdictions, property which had been specifically identifiable as your own will be pro-rated in the same manner as cash for purposes of distribution in the event of a shortfall.

(d) Commission and Other Charges

Before you begin to trade, you should obtain a clear explanation of all commissions, fees and other charges for which you will be liable. These charges will affect your net profit (if any) or increase your loss.

(e) Transactions in Other Jurisdictions

Transactions on markets in other jurisdictions, including markets formally linked to a domestic market, may expose you to additional risk. Such markets may be subject to a rule which may offer different or diminished investor protection. Before you trade, you should enquire about any rules relevant to your particular transactions. Your local regulatory authority will be unable to compel the enforcement of the rules of the regulatory authorities or markets in other jurisdictions where your transactions have been effected. You should ask the firm with which you conduct your transactions for details about the types of redress available in both your home jurisdiction and other relevant jurisdictions before you start to trade.

(f) Currency Risks

The profit or loss in transactions in foreign currency-denominated futures and options contracts (whether they are traded in your own or another jurisdiction) will be affected by fluctuations in currency rates where there is a need to convert from the currency denomination of the contract to another currency.

(g) Trading Facilities

Most open-outcry and electronic trading facilities are supported by computer-based component systems for the order-routing, execution, matching, registration or clearing of trades. As with all facilities and systems, they are vulnerable to temporary disruption or failure. Your ability to recover certain losses may be subject to limits on liability imposed by the one or more parties, namely the system provider, the market, the clearing house or member firms. Such limits may vary. You should ask the firm with which you conduct your transactions for details in this respect.

(h) Electronic Trading

Trading on an electronic trading system may differ not only from trading in an open-outcry market but also from trading on other electronic trading systems. If you undertake transactions on an electronic trading system, you will be exposed to risks associated with the system including the failure of hardware and software. The result of any system failure may be that your order is either not executed according to your instructions or not executed at all.

(i) Off-Exchange Transactions

In some jurisdictions, firms are permitted to effect off-exchange transactions. The firm with which you conduct your transactions may be acting as your counterparty to the transaction. It may be difficult or impossible to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value, to determine a fair price or to assess the exposure to risk. For these reasons, these transactions may involve increased risks. Off-exchange transactions may be less regulated or subject to a separate regulatory regime. Before you undertake such transactions, you should familiarise yourself with the applicable rules and attendant risks.
